

A program of DIDI HIRSCH

Become a Teen Line Volunteer

Teen Line is a national hotline powered by teens for teens. Our volunteers, known as “listeners”, receive comprehensive training from mental health professionals to effectively respond to calls, texts, and emails from peer in need.

Why volunteer with Teen Line?

- Learn about important topics like suicide prevention, sexuality, child abuse, and more.
- Develop and use invaluable listening and communication skills.
- Help fellow teens by addressing their concerns and connecting them with resources.
- Earn school community service credit.
- Create lasting friendships with your fellow Teen Line listeners.
- Make a difference! In some cases, a life-saving one.

Requirements:

- Be at least 14 years old. Grade level eligibility may vary.
- Live in or near Los Angeles, CA.
- Attend all mandatory trainings, interview, and orientation sessions in person.
- Be up to date on immunizations.
- Be able to commit to volunteering in person for at least two evening shifts per month.

Ready to make a difference?

To learn more and find out about upcoming training sessions, visit:

TeenLine.org/Volunteer

Accredited by the American Association of Suicidology

For teens seeking peer support, call Teen Line at (800) 852-8336 (6-10 p.m. PST) or text TEEN to 839863 (6-9 p.m. PST).

If you or someone you know is in a mental health or suicidal crisis outside of Teen Line hours, call or text 988 (24/7, free & confidential).

TeenLine.org

